

INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL

Organized by Marcoule Institute for Separation Chemistry (ICSM)
France, close to Avignon

From August 28th to September 1st, 2023

We are delighted to announce that the next ECIS summer school will take place this year at Marcoule Institute for Separation Chemistry, in France close to Avignon, the week before the 37th ECIS conference in Naples.

The format will be novel in combining courses and practicals on defined softmatter principles.

This school is opened for PhD students and post-doctorates only.

Courses on softmatter physical chemistry will be taught in the mornings.

Practicals will be carried out by the participants the afternoons and supervised by ICSM scientists. The deadline for registration is April 15th.

For more information about the event, see “<https://site.evenium.net/y4mccjx5/>” and for any questions please contact Dr Olivier Diat at olivier.diat@cea.fr or Mrs Véronique Haon at veronique.haon2@cea.fr

Hope to see many of you there!
